ever after independence vast changes have occurred in terms of socio economic strata literacy levels with the result india has witnessed vast changes india of 2020 is greatly transformed india of 1950s and 60s had one essential need to see but with a large part of the society being literate with modern outlook and access to information and knowledge today s indian aspires to see well and wishes to maintain a good vision it is no longer a situation where rural person does not have access to better equipped eye hospital it is true that even today a good percentage of the population is deprived of quality eye care but the great strides by the npcb the ngos associated with this umbrella organization under its programmes are doing a commendable job in a refined and sensitive society there is always a yearning for betterment in life to attain improved standards in terms of quality eye care the awareness about eye care has to extend beyond normal parameters in consonance with the upheaval the society is witnessing the increasing need and the changing trends and civilization have necessitated to emphasize more on aspects like occupational hazards environmental adversities nutritional aspects of health etc people working in advanced professions like aviation medical and surgical field information technology and even fashion technology need to have refined information and access to advanced eye care with this in view the current book has been authored in nature's new deal neil m maher examines the history of one of franklin d roosevelt's boldest and most successful experiments the civilian conservation corps describing it as a turning point both in national politics and in the emergence of modern environmentalism indeed roosevelt addressed both the economic and environmental crises by putting americans to work at conserving natural resources indeed millions of americans devoted themselves to a new vision of conservation one that went beyond the old model of simply maximizing the efficient use of natural resources to include the promotion of human health through outdoor recreation wilderness preservation and ecological balance and yet as maher explores the rise and development of the ccc he also shows how the critique of its campgrounds picnic areas hiking trails and motor roads frames the debate over environmentalism to this day the rapid growth of the american environmental movement in recent decades obscures the fact that long before the first earth day and the passage of the endangered species act naturalists and concerned citizens recognized and worried about the problem of human caused extinction as mark v barrow reveals in nature's ghosts the threat of species loss has haunted americans since the early days of the republic from thomas jefferson's day when the fossil remains of such fantastic lost animals as the mastodon and the woolly mammoth were first reconstructed through the pioneering conservation efforts of early naturalists like john james audubon and john muir barrow shows how americans came to understand that it was not only possible for entire species to die out but that humans themselves could be responsible for their extinction with the destruction of the passenger pigeon and the precipitous decline of the bison professional scientists and wildlife enthusiasts alike began to understand that even very common species were not safe from the juggernaut of modern industrial society that realization spawned public education and legislative campaigns that laid the foundation for the modern environmental movement and the preservation of such iconic creatures as the bald eagle the california condor and the whooping crane a sweeping beautifully illustrated historical narrative that unites the fascinating stories of endangered animals and the dedicated individuals who have studied and struggled to protect them nature's ghosts offers an unprecedented view of what we've lost and a stark reminder of the hard work of preservation still ahead as albert einstein lay on his death bed he asked for his glasses his writing implements and his latest equations he knew he was dying yet he continued to work in those final hours of his life while fading in and out of consciousness he was working on what he hoped would be the greatest work of all it was a project of monumental complexity it was a project that he hoped would unlock the mind of god
